TONBRIDGE SCHOOL.

The Founder.

SIR ANDREW JUDD, Knight, was born at Tonbridge. He became a Skinner and a Merchant of Muscovy, and was Lord Mayor of London in 1550-1. The Charter of the School was granted to him by Edward VI. in 1553, but it is not known in what year Scholars were first admitted.* The Founder died in 1558.

Head-Masters.

- 1559—1574 Rev. JOHN LEVER.

* In Dr. Knox's and Mr. Rivington's Histories of the School, 1558 is given as the date of the appointment of the first Head-Master; but all that can be proved is that the School came under the management of the Skinners' Company in that year or the next. The Founder's Will shows clearly that the School previously existed, but remained in his own hands during his lifetime. There is also evidence, though not amounting to proof, that John Proctor was Head-Master at the time of Wyatt's Rebellion in 1554.

* This list of Second Masters is necessarily imperfect, the only sources of information being (1) an annual vote of the Governors, (2) the Governors' account books, in both of which the word "Usher," without any name, often occurs for many years together, especially at the end of the eighteenth and beginning of the nineteenth centuries.

Founders of Exhibitions.

In the following list holders of these Exhibitions will be distinguished by the letters (F.), (W.), (S.)

HENRY FISHER, (F), a servant of Sir Andrew Judd, after his master's death not only carried out all his intentions with respect to Tonbridge School, but also himself gave certain houses to the Skinners' Company, out of the rents of which they were to provide an Exhibition for a Tonbridge Scholar at Brasenose College, Oxford.

* Since the death of the Rev. Edward Ind Welldon in 1879, there has been no Second Master, no such post being provided for in the "New Scheme."

Sir THOMAS WHITE, (W), the founder of St. John's College, Oxford, provided that, "in respect of the great love we did bear Andrew Judd, Knight, builder of the Grammar School there," one of the fellowships in his College (which were probationary for the first three years) should always be held by a Scholar of Tonbridge School.

Sir THOMAS SMYTHE, (S), (grandson of Sir Andrew Judd), founded in 1619 six Exhibitions, to be held for seven years at either of the Universities by Scholars from Tonbridge School.

* Between 1680 and 1714 the School was in a very bad state owing to the neglect or inefficiency of the Head Master, Thomas Roots. During this period the Examiner not unfrequently reports that there are "no Scholars fit for the Universities."

† Powell is distinctly stated to have been elected in 1688 to a Fisher Exhibition, although he had taken his degree at Cambridge in the previous year. But this is not the only evidence of irregularity about this period.

Rev. Jacob Cawthorn, Master, who died in this year, viz., 1761.

The "Witworth" in the above list is, undoubtedly, Lord Whitworth, who is known from other sources to have been at the School under Mr. Cawthorn and his successor. The "Hull" in the same list must be Christopher Hull, of Sidcup, to whom Lord Whitworth was fag. Lord Whitworth became an officer in the Guards, and filled various posts at the Courts of Russia, Poland, and Denmark. His seat was at Knowle, where he raised at his own expense the Holmesdale Battalion of Infantry, six hundred strong. He is chiefly celebrated for having been twice publicly insulted by Napoleon, when performing his duty as British Ambassador at Paris during the Peace of Amiens. He died in 1815.

Lord Eardley, and Colonel James of Ightham Lodge, Kent, were contemporaries of Lord Whitworth at Tonbridge.
